Continuum Strengthens Leadership Team with New Hires & Promotions

Healthcare Company Appoints John Juzaitis as Chief Commercial Officer, and Nadia Adams as SVP of Care Innovation

Marlton, NJ – August 7, 2018 – Continuum Health, a physician enablement company, continues to strengthen its leadership team with new hires and promotions, further driving the company’s vision for growth.

John Juzaitis

Juzaitis’ exemplary performance as VP of Commercial Operations for Continuum over the last two years has proven him to be a great asset in executing the company’s strategic vision. In his new role as Chief Commercial Officer, Juzaitis is responsible for market development with a focus on managing Continuum’s commercial relationships with clients, prospects and payers. By developing, implementing and maintaining a range of commercial best practices, Juzaitis drives sales transparency throughout the entire organization. Prior to his role at Continuum, Juzaitis served as Chief Revenue Officer for Medfusion, a leading provider of patient experience management solutions. Before joining Medfusion, Juzaitis oversaw national sales operations for ZirMed, and served in multiple commercial roles for IDX/GE. Juzaitis holds a bachelor’s degree in finance from East Carolina University.

Nadia Adams

As Senior Vice President of Care Innovation, Adams is responsible for driving improved quality, enhanced patient experience and lower overall cost of care among Continuum’s provider customers. A dynamic leader with a passion for transforming healthcare into a consumer-driven system, Adams balances innovation with execution, enabling Continuum’s physician partners to successfully transition from fee-for-service to value-based care. Before joining Continuum, Adams served as Chief Operating Officer for the Center for Health Innovation and Implementation Science at Indiana University School of Medicine. Adams also served as the Network Director for Great Lakes Practice Transformation Network where she worked with over 2,100 physician practices and 15,000 medical providers serving 10 million patients to advance them through graduated levels of success in value-based care environments.

“Continuum is proud of our accomplished team of leaders, and Luis, John and Nadia are no exception,” said Peter Bailey, Continuum CEO. “We look forward to leveraging their skills and expertise to further strengthen Continuum’s position in today’s value-based healthcare environment.”
